The crossings restaurant carlsbad ca

My wife and I lived for years near canyons at crossings, but we never sampled their ride until this week; I'm glad we did! We enjoyed The Canyons Sunday Brunch last Week and we enjoyed it very much. It was certainly... Not a fanciest, over-the-top brunch it seems, but it's entirely servicable, professional, friendly, and delicious too! We started with a generous cold sea plate each, mine with bagle & cream cheese to accompany my lox. Then they were adapted to the omeleti for each of us, along with manditor potatoes, bacon, etc. For our last salty course, we split up; She had cheesy chicken enchilladas, while I enjoyed my rare roast beef. Finally, we couldn't miss the deserts. (Although, to be honest, this is one area where we could improve the diversity of the offer.) One feature we noticed was that not only are mimosas and bloody marys limitless, but we had the pleasure of mixing our own bloody marys, so the picting was just right! Let's go again!
